ALL ABOUT KELDA

Kelda (an old Norse name meaning 'spring' or 'fountain') is a giant puppet of a young girl of Viking Lineage. Embodying the spirit of discovery and wonder, Kelda, accompanied by her archaeologist guides, is curious to meet people and learn about the treasures of the Wirral of today, from space travel to art galleries, from flowers to growing vegetables..

Kelda is created by Thingumajig Theatre and is part of Liverpool Discovers in association with the Liverpool Lantern Company, Liverpool City Council and European Regional Development Fund. For more information visit their website at www.liverpooldiscovers.co.uk
